

The Smithsonian Institution Multi-Media Camp for High School Students with Cognitive/Intellectual Disabilities

The Smithsonian Institution invites 20 High School students with cognitive/intellectual disabilities to participate in a 2 week day camp. Students explore the Smithsonian Museums and document their experiences, using digital cameras and videos. Participants use computers to compile their digital images and share their findings on social networks such as Facebook and Twitter, with their camp peers and friends.

Weekdays, August 8 -19, 2011
Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden
Art Lab from 10:00 am – 3:00 pm

This project is made possible by funds from the Pearson Foundation

If you are interested in participating contact:
SI Accessibility Program
Krista Flores
(202) 633-4340 or email at floresk@si.edu

- All applicants will be interviewed prior to acceptance into the program

If you have questions regarding the camp contact
Emily Shapiro at (202) 633-5439, shapiro@si.edu.

This project is administered jointly by Smithsonian Center for Education and Museum Studies and the Smithsonian Accessibility Program.